

Arizona's & New Mexico's Authoritative Voice of Ice & Inline Hockey

ABOUT ARIZONA RUBBER MAGAZINE

Launched in 2006 by Good Sport Media, Inc., a Minneapolis, Minnesota-based publishing company, Arizona Rubber Magazine positions itself as the Authoritative Voice of Ice and Inline Hockey in the states of Arizona and New Mexico.

With editorial coverage that includes every ice and inline hockey association in the region, as well as midget, junior, college and professional hockey, Arizona Rubber Magazine is a must-read for players, parents, coaches, administrators and industry personnel.

Arizona Rubber Magazine, along with its Web site, AZRubberHockey.com, is the trusted source for breaking news, columns and in-depth features. A professional editorial staff and expert columnists drive its respect and influence in the local hockey community.

Reader Profile

Arizona Rubber Magazine has a passionate and captive audience of players, parents, coaches and administrators who read the publication because it's informative, entertaining, readily-available and, most importantly, because it's their paper - about them and the teams they play for and follow. No other publication combines a readership base this large with such a focused local interest component.

Arizona Rubber Magazine's readers are the purchasers of hockey equipment, apparel and accessories to compliment their game on the ice and on the floor. They are also the purchasers of video, travel and entertainment goods to compliment their off-ice experience.

Always in search of the next best training device and facility, they also attend hockey camps, play in and organize tournaments, attend hockey games, train for hockey year-round, participate in tryouts and dine out regularly.
